WEDNESDAY EVENING, JULY 12.

DISTURBANCE IN A CHURCH.-A most disgraceful scene occurred in St. Mary's Catholic church, Cambridge, Massachusetts, last Sunday morning, the parties being Mr. William Reardon on one side and a couple of clergymen and their friends on the other. The trouble grew out of what is regarded by many parishioners as an arbitrary rule prohibiting the use of tans during the service.

The ladies of the family of Alderman Reardon refused to comply with the rule, in which they were sustained by Mr. Reardon, and Sunday morning, shortly be ore the beginning of mass, Father Scully, the pastor, approached the pew in which he was and ordered him to leave the church.

Reardon refused, and officer Parks was called upon to put him out. Reardon refused to allow the officer to put his bands on him unless he had a warrant, and the officer hesitated about his right in the premises. Father Scully then, it is said, went to the altar, and after the officer had signified a willing ness to take hold of Reardon if any person would aid him, called upon some one of the congregation to come forward and help him in the work. None coming forward, he then, it is assserted, rolled up the sleeves of his casseck, and, coming down the aisle, seized hold of Reardon, with the officer, and pulled the man down the passage.

Then occurred a scene of great excitement. Reardon struggled furiously and several men jumped to the assistance of the clergyman and the officer. Reardon, in his struggles, was finally knocked down, after receiving several blows from these men, among them, it is said, one James E. O'Rourke, a special police officer. who, for his pains, received a severe blow from some person. During the squabble several ladies fainted. Parties expostulated with the clergyman and those belaboring Reardon at their barsh treatment, and were kept back, it is said, by Father Cummings, another curate of the pastor. The end is probably not yet. All the parties who took part in the assault on Mr. Reardon, who carries on his body many bruises, will in a day or two find themselves in court; while the matter, so far as it refers to the clergyman, will be left in the hands of Archbishop Williams.

THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER will soon celbrate its centennial year. More than three quarters of a century ago it grew into life a creation of wants and needs of the people of this section of Virginia.

During all this period its prominent object has been to advance the interests of the people of whose life it is the daily chronicle. Its fortunes have been their fortunes; it has shared their prosperity and suffered in their disasters. Its inspiration has been the desire to forward the best interests of the community in which it is located, and its own prosperity is, as it has been purposely made, inseparable from that of the community it aims to represent. When they grow rich it hopes to a reward commensurate with its labors. While they are poor it expects to work with them and for them, expecting to make their success the measure of its own.

The past of the Gazette is offered as an index of its future. It has never failed to avail itself promptly of all the improvements which come with the greater growth and more extended experience of journalism. Every year NEW FEATURES will be added.

THE GAZETTE MEANS TO BE THE NEWSPAPER OF VIRGINIA. It will furnish daily a complete account, with superfluities only lopped away, of all the current news of the world As the interests of the people mainly centre at home, no pains will be spared to chronicle all matters occurring in the city and neighborhood, carefully excluding unseemly expressions or gross narrative as unfit for a journal that is treasured at many thousand hearthstones of Virginia. Especial attention will be devoted to presenting, as well from original sources of information as from its exchanges, the news of Virginia, especially such as relate to the development of the resources of the State.

Its contiguity to Washington gives the Gazette an early precedence over all the journals of the State in intelligence of the operations of the General Government, now of such vital importance to the people of the South. The proceedings of Congress, seldom so interesting as now, will be regularly reported in succinct form for its columns, but all matters of especial interest in Virginia will be given in detail, and the full text of all bills of local interest will be given.

From the State Capital it will receive early and accurate accounts of the proceedings of the General Assembly and of all the operations of the State government likely to interest the people.

In its Commercial columns the especial fea ture will be promptness and accuracy. The tarmers, drovers and commercial people of the State snow they MAY DEPEND upon the Gazette.

Early and reliable reports of the Grain, Cattle, Grocery and other Markets will be furnished, and the prices and position of the stocks, which are the subjects of business transactions in this ection of the country, carefully quoted.

The continual favors of those who have once used the Gazette as an advertising medium is a warrant for saying that it pays to advertise in its columns. Never before did it pay so well to tell the public what is for sale.
